GREEN RIVER AND EQUITY SIGNED UP

Contracts Closed For Over 11,000,000 lbs.

DELIVERIES BEGAN MONDAY

Nearly Five Million Pounds Goes To Owensboro—None To Hartford.

APPORTIONMENT OF THE POOL.

The Owensboro Inquirer of Sunday says:

At a late hour Saturday afternoon the contracts for the sale and delivery of the Green River-Equity tobacco were signed, and everything is in readiness for the delivery of the tobacco, which will begin on Monday morning.

The contracts were signed by Hiram Markberry, president, and Walter Atherton, secretary, of the Green River Association, and the several buyers who are to take the tobacco. At the time the contracts were signed, neither Dr. Dunn nor Mr. Howell, members of the executive board of the Equity Society, who had heretofore attended all the sessions, was in Owensboro, and no signatures of the Equity representatives were secured.

The contracts state that the tobacco is to be delivered at the various delivery points designated therein between the 23d day of January, 1914, and June 1, 1914.

It is stated in the contracts that the prices to be paid for the tobacco are as follows:

Grade No. 1, $10 for leaf and $10 for lugs.
Grade No. 2, $9 for leaf and $9 for lugs.
Grade No. 3, $8 for leaf and $8 for lugs.
Grade No. 4, $7 for leaf and $7 for lugs.
Grade No. 5, $6 for leaf.

On grade No. 5 there is nothing stipulated as to the price to be received for lugs. It is also stipulated in the contract that in the event that some of the tobacco should fall to grade to $6, then a grade of $4 is to be placed on it. However, it is optional with the owner of the tobacco about taking the $4 price, and if he should decline to accept, he is then given the right to dispose of his tobacco in any manner or to any person he may deem best. All green and dirty trash is to bring $2 and the good trash $3.

There are some few points at which the tobacco has not been placed, but the association hopes to complete this part of the work during the present week. It is understood that the tobacco is still unplaced at Sacramento, although there is a possibility that James Hodge will purchase this part of the pool.

Under the contracts nearly 5,000,000 pounds of the pool will be delivered in Owensboro, with John E. Massie and the Imperial Company, each taking 1,000,000 pounds and W. E. Whiteley, 1,500,000 pounds. The next largest delivering point is at Whitesville, where Massie has contracted for 2,000,000, part of which is the Equity pool.

The house at Whitesville will not be opened until Tuesday morning, according to Mr. Massie, one of the purchasers of the pool. The other house controlled by Mr. Massie in McLean county, will not be opened for several days yet.

Apportionment of Pool.
The following is the manner in which the pool will be apportioned among the buyers:

WE ARE JUST ENTERING UPON ERA OF IDEALISM

Washington, Jan. 24.—The United States is entering upon an era of idealism, is the opinion of Secretary Bryan, principal speaker at a Democratic dinner at Calvert hall, the historic home of Lord Baltimore, last night. President Wilson was lauded for the part he has played in bringing about the new order of things.

Secretary Bryan declared that the commercial ideal has for years been dominant in this country, but that under the leadership of the President a change is coming.

He said that the country is entering upon a new age of ideals and referred to the way in which President Wilson's efforts have been received to support his assertion.

"The people were demanding that this country should no longer be used as a tool for the interests," Secretary Bryan continued. "No man ever took up his difficult task with as brave a heart or has pursued it with more popularity than has the President."

ROAD MEETING.

The Fiscal Court of Ohio county, Ky., and County Road Engineer desire to meet all the taxpayers of the county for the purpose of discussing the building and maintenance of public roads at the following times and places:

February 9th—Cool Springs, 9 to 11 a. m. Hopewell, 1 to 3 p. m. Rockport, 7:30 p. m.
February 10th—Equality, 9 to 11 a. m. Centertown, 2 p. m.
February 11th—Burford, 9 to 11 a. m. Bell's Run, 1 to 3 p. m. Ralph schoolhouse, 7 p. m.
February 12th—Deaneville, 9 to 11 a. m. Herbert, 1 to 3 p. m. Fordsville, 7 p. m.
February 13th—Dundee, 9 to 11 a. m. Cane Run church, 7 p. m.
February 14th—Renfrow, 9 to 11 a. m. Cronwell, 2 p. m.

Some of the members of the Fiscal Court and County Judge and County Road Engineer will attend all of these meetings and be in position to explain the financial condition of the county and probable amount of funds on hand with which to work the road and will be assisted by Messrs. J. F. Grimes and R. H. Reece, of the State Road Engineer's office, together with other speakers who are experienced and competent road men.

It is the earnest desire of all concerned that every taxpayer in reach of any of the above meeting places be present, rain or shine. Come, let's talk matters over, and find out and do that which is best for the common good of all the people.

There will also be a final meeting at the court house in Hartford on Monday, February 16th, to which all are invited and urged to attend.

T. M. BENTON,
County Road Engineer.
JNO. B. WILSON,
County Judge.

CENTERTOWN.

Pan. 26.—Prof. J. C. Lawrence, formerly of Dundee, has opened up a silversmith shop here.

We are having a little smallpox excitement here again, which we predict is not going to amount to very much, as the cases are under strict quarantine.

Esq. J. C. Jackson, who has been in Arkansas for several days, has returned home.

Mr. Sam Rowe, who has been sick for some time, is no better.

There are several cases of pneumonia in this vicinity.

Mr. Charlie Taylor, of Beaver Dam, was in town Saturday.

Mr. Billy Boyd has moved to the farm that he recently purchased near town.

Several from here attended the play given by the Lower Point School on last Friday night. All report a splendid entertainment, which was rendered by local talent.

Farmers are getting their work up in fine shape. Quite a lot of corn ground has been turned over.

MAMMOTH DEAL IN COAL MINES

Of Western Kentucky Is Now On.

AMOUNT INVOLVED $6,000,000

Pittsburg Syndicate Takes In Eighteen Big Black Diamond Plants.

OFFICES AT EVANSVILLE, IND.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 26.—Eighteen coal mines of Western Kentucky are soon to pass into the control of the Deep Water Coal & Coke Company, chartered for $10,000,000 with office headquarters in Evansville and shipping headquarters in Henderson.

The mines involved, according to H. F. Allen, of Pittsburg, president of the company, are as follows: Keystone, Henderson; People's, Henderson; Haskett, Haskett; Spottsville, Spottsville; Bluff City, Bluff City; Corydon, Corydon; Waverly, Waverly; Seabee, Seabee; Rose Creek, Nebo; Bell Union, near Marion; Crittenden, Dekoven; Sunset, Madisonville; Coll, Madisonville; River and Rail, near Morganfield; Morganfield; Thomas, near Morganfield; Newburg, Newburg, Ind.; Kingdon, Morton's Gap.

Contracts for all eighteen mines have been closed. Abstracts and titles are now being examined by Yeaman & Yeaman, attorneys, of Henderson. Mr. Allen says the several mining properties will be paid for as soon as the titles are confirmed.

The whole deal involves an investment in Western Kentucky in or near Henderson of $6,000,000.

Evansville secures the main offices and Henderson will be the loading point for the coal to be shipped by the Deep Water Coal & Coke Company.

President H. F. Allen and associates are now negotiating for 3,000 feet of river frontage near Henderson. They plan to build an immense coal yard and tipple for loading coal on barges which will carry it to New Orleans and thence to the foreign market.

Offices at Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 25.—That the Deep Water Coal Company, backed by Pittsburg capital, has taken over a number of coal mines in Western Kentucky, is the information given out here: Several weeks ago Henry F. Allen, of Pittsburg, came here and secured a lease on the three-story building at the corner of Main and First streets formerly occupied by the City National Bank. He has opened offices in the building and all negotiations are conducted from this city. It is understood the Deep Water Coal Company has already arranged to take over seventeen coal mines along Green river and in Western Kentucky and one mine at Newburg, Ind., ten miles above this city.

It is the intention of the company to build large coal docks below Henderson. It is said, and there the barges of the company will be loaded and sent to New Orleans and the Southern markets. Something like $6,500,000 will be spent in developing the mines that have been acquired by the company. It has been known for several months that the company had been taking options on many of the coal mines in Western Kentucky and Southern Indiana. The taking over of these mines will mean that Evansville will become a large coal center and that the dream of the city to become "the Pittsburg of the lower Ohio Valley" may be realized.

Notice.

By consent of two-thirds of the stockholders of the Cronwell Tobacco Warehouse Company, the corporation has been dissolved, and the affairs of the company are being closed up. Any person holding claims against the company should file same with us at Cronwell, Ky. The house will be sold at Cronwell, Ky., on the first Saturday in March at 2 o'clock to the highest and best bidder.

EUGENIC LAW BADLY TANGLED

In Wisconsin, Where The Edict Prevails.

AFTER THREE WEEKS' TRIAL

New Law Creates Great Confusion Among the Mat- ing Couples.

IS MOTHERED BY MRS. HIPKE

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24.—Wisconsin, the first State to go into eugenics by law, is considerably up in the air.

The eugenics law, forbidding the mating of the diseased and unfit, has, after 20 days' trial, been declared unconstitutional, but it is still a law, because an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court. So marriage license clerks and couples with a strong hunch to hitch up are breathing hard and thinking deeply over the situation.

The attack upon the law came, not from the sentimentalists who believe that Dan Cupid can be safely trusted, but from the doctors who dislike the legal limit of $3, named in the law as the charge for making physical examinations.

The marriage law was passed largely through the efforts of Mrs. G. A. Hipke of this city. As the wife of a physician she had seen the terrible results of the black plague upon the children of the disease.

She had a close view, through her husband's profession, of the final harvest of the sowing of "wild oats" in the second generation. She saw the babies born blind, children brought into the world with minds darkened and vacant, the epileptic, the insane, the wreckage of good women.

The law passed by Wisconsin provided that all men and women must submit to a physical examination before being permitted to marry and that they must take to the license clerk a certificate that they were free from venereal disease.

The doctors declared that they could not issue such certificates without making what is known as the Wasserman test, which involved an expensive, time-taking examination. If they made the test they refused to do it for a $3 fee, the figure named in the law. Also many doctors in the State were not provided with the means to make the test.

A. A. Peterson tried to get a license to marry Hattie Schmidt. Four doctors refused to make the test. The clerk refused a license. Judge Eschweiler ordered a license issued without a certificate, upholding the contention of the doctors that the Wasserman test was necessary and deciding that the law was unenforceable because few doctors were able to make such a test.

While the law was in force the number of marriage licenses dropped to one-fourth the normal number. The cause of this was mostly because men and women would not submit to an examination.

Many couples went to other States for marriage ceremonies, although the law contained severe penalties for such evasions.

Some few contented themselves with the signing of civil contracts of common law marriages.

BEAVER DAM.

Jan. 26.—Capt. Abe Stanley is dead. He commanded a company in the 26th Ky. Regiment, Federal, and followed the battle flag of that regiment on many hard-contested battle fields of the Civil War, but last Tuesday evening he fought his last battle and surrendered to that enemy that knows no defeat. On the following day short funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Jarnagin at the home, after which his remains were interred in the Sunnyside cemetery. He leaves a wife and eight children. All are grown and married. He was the oldest person living in Beaver Dam at his death, being 83 years old. His life has been an open book to the people of Ohio county, having lived here all his life. He had been a member of the Baptist church since he was 16 years old and long a deacon of Cool Springs congregation. He was stricken with paralysis, which was the cause of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lallenger will leave this week for an extended trip through the South to Cuba. They will stop off in Atlanta and Key West, Fla., and will spend some time visiting different parts of the island of Cuba.

Last week a native of Turkey visited our city. He was well dressed and had papers showing that he was a Mohammedan missionary and had been in this country only about one month. He could not speak a word of English. He caused no little consternation among the matrons of the city, as he would enter their homes and could make no one understand his mission. They appealed to Marshal Stevens to take charge of him. The marshal responded at once, then the trouble began. Sam was not versed in the Turkish tongue but informed him in English that he must not enter private houses without permission. Then a conversation ensued, neither one understanding the other. Finally Sam became desperate and displayed his bill. The Turk understood that to mean war, and made signs that he would leave on the next train.

Mr. Richard Plummer, a prosperous farmer of Union neighborhood, was stricken with pneumonia last week and after all that loving hands could do, death relieved him of his suffering Sunday morning at six o'clock. He leaves a wife, three boys and one girl. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. A. B. Gardner at one o'clock to-day at Liberty church, after which his remains will be interred in the burying grounds at that place.

Your scribe had the pleasure of attending the chapel exercises of the city school this morning. Exercises were nicely conducted by Prof. Stillwell. Two hundred scholars were present of the city and 46 scholars have entered the school here since Christmas from out of town. Each room was in fine sanitary condition, in fact every department was in good running order. We compliment our trustees for making so the selection of teachers.

MAN WHO KIDNAPPED "INCUBATOR BABY" FREED

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 24.—F. H. Tillotson, a detective, who in 1909 kidnapped Marion Bleakley, the famous "Incubator baby," has been pardoned by Gov. Hodges. He was under sentence of from one to five years in the Kansas penitentiary, but was at liberty on bond pending hearing of an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Tillotson took Marion from the home of a relative of Mrs. Lottie Bleakley, in Topeka, Kan., and brought the child to Kansas City, where he gave Marion to Mrs. James G. Barclay, of Moline, Ill. Mrs. Barclay and Mrs. Bleakley were fighting in the courts for the child's possession.

Marion was born in a St. Louis hospital in 1904. She was so small that she was taken to the World's Fair and placed in an incubator. Mrs. Barclay adopted her.

BARRETT'S FERRY.

Pan. 26.—Mr. Slaughter Goodman and family, of Penrose, Ark., who have been visiting relatives here for some time, have returned home. They were accompanied by Mr. Mervel Grant and family, Mr. Ollie Young and family and Messrs. Orville Bratcher and Clarence Grant, who will make Arkansas their future home.

Horn recently to the wife of Alva Blacklock, a fine boy.

Mr. Mack Murtin closed a very successful school at New Hayms last Thursday. He will move to Sulphur Springs in a few days.

Mr. Lyman Barrett, who has attended the State Normal School at Bowling Green during the past five months, returned home last Saturday. He will teach a spring school at New Hayms, beginning February 2.

Special Offer.

For a few weeks only we will send to any address the Hartford Herald, the Louisville Post and Home and Farm, all three one year for only $2.75. Or we will send the Herald and Post both one year and one Kentucky Governors Wall Chart, all together for $3.50. This offer will not last long. Better subscribe before it is too late.

ARMY DESERTER MET HIS DEATH

From Wound Caused Accidentally While

BEING PURSUED BY OFFICERS

He Lived In Woods During Day—Had a Hiding Place At Night.

LAST DAYS WERE TROUBLOUS

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 23.—Deserting from the United States army from a post in Oklahoma a few days before Christmas, returning to the home of his father, who resides near Mill Pond, eight miles below Smith Mills, in what is known as the "Coon Country," Sam Grant, aged 23, who served one term enlistment and had enlisted for a second term, but who became tired of army life, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday night of a shotgun wound while seated in a surrey enroute from his home to the city hospital.

Grant was a hunted man from the moment he set foot on Kentucky soil a deserter. A reward of $50 for his arrest induced several officers to get on his trail, and he escaped death or wounding only a few nights ago when officers from Uniontown appeared at his father's home in search of him. For four weeks he lived in the woods in the day and fitted up a hiding place in a friend's home that would have baffled Sherlock Holmes.

The unfortunate deserter was hunting squirrels Wednesday afternoon with John Barton, a friend. While in the act of climbing a fence, with his gun cocked, the weapon was accidentally discharged, and his right arm was shattered a few inches below the elbow. The gun was loaded with No. 3 shot.

Barton ran to his assistance, and with presence of mind, tied a handkerchief tightly above the elbow to stop the flow of blood. He assisted Grant to his father's home, about two miles away, and part of the distance had to carry him, as Grant was too weak from the loss of blood to walk.

The nearest physician was at Smith Mills, eight miles away. Mounting a horse, Barton rode with all speed to summon medical aid. Dr. Gabbert returned with Barton, arriving at 7 o'clock. Heroic treatment was resorted to by Dr. Gabbert to stay the flow of blood. After succeeding, he ordered the wounded man to the city hospital here to have the arm amputated. A surrey was secured and the wounded man placed in it, and when a mile from home, Grant breathed his last. The body was taken back to his father's home, and the funeral will be held this morning with interment in Smith Mills cemetery.

Grant's career since he deserted the Oklahoma army post was stormy. He escaped arrest at Memphis by a mere chance. While waiting in the railroad yards he saw two officers approaching, and feeling sure that they were after him, started running down the tracks. The officers followed in pursuit and fired several times at him. While fleeing a freight train passed him, and he risked his life by boarding it, and rode the "humpers" out of Memphis.

When he arrived home he learned that officers were on his trail. To escape arrest and be returned to the army, Grant secured permission from a neighbor friend to construct a hiding place in his garret. He cut a hole large enough for a man to enter in the wall, and by pulling an old dresser against the wall when he entered, completely covered his hiding place.

Last Sunday night he was at the home of his father when some one knocked on the door. Going to the window he peeped out, and saw two men he believed to be officers standing on the porch. He slipped out the back door, but two men were guarding this point, and when he stepped on the ground they ordered him to throw up his hands. With the agility of a cat, Grant leaped a fence, while several shots rang out. He escaped injury, and was lost in the woods.

A SEVERE ATTACK OF CIVILIZATION

Threatens Man, Say Assembled Scientists.

FIRST NATIONAL CONFERENCE

On Race Betterment Considers Topics Of Benefit To Human Kind.

DEFECTIVES VERY PLENTIFUL

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 22.—Three hundred specialists from many fields of progressive endeavor, having been called to the bedside of the human race here, felt the patient's pulse, diagnosed the ailment as a severe attack of modern civilization, and went away leaving a prescription of eugenics and eusthenics in liberal doses.

The diagnosis took place at the first national conference on race betterment. The question will be passed upon by the executive committee, which will meet in New York in February to name a committee of one hundred as the working body of the conference and to pass upon other business matters submitted to its attention by the conference itself. The members of the executive committee are Prof. Irving Fisher, the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, Jacob Ellis, Dr. J. H. Kellogg and Sir Horace Plunkett.

The conference adopted no resolutions further than the expression that it favored annual meetings. It devoted its entire time—two sessions daily for five days—to collecting and classifying the evidences of race deterioration. Some of the evidences are startling.

Dr. C. B. Davenport, director of the Carnegie Station of Experimental Evolution, pointed out that the wanted blue blood of New England is playing out. Prof. J. McK. Cattell, editor of Popular Science Monthly, said that scientific men are rapidly becoming childless. Frederick L. Hoffman of New York cited the increase in homicide in the United States. Prof. H. H. Laughlin of Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y., asserted that about one man out of ten is not fit to reproduce his kind. Increasing insanity, increasing crime, infertility of American women, dental inefficiency, increased consumption of alcohol and tobacco and the broad prevalence of a certain class of diseases were some of the other evidences of decay cited by the speakers.

Some of the remedies suggested by the specialists are prevention of reproduction of degenerate types by segregation or sterilization; humane, scientific study of criminal classes, with none of the sentimentalism of "long-haired men and short-haired women;" selection of the best mothers for the bearing and rearing of children, the expense to be borne by the community; dental inspection in infancy and childhood; the gradual substitution of beer, and, finally, water for the nicotine stimulants commonly sold, and the establishment of a eugenics registry office for beginning pedigreed stock-breeding among human beings.

Dr. J. H. Kellogg, host of the conference, remarking that "the proper study of mankind is man," said that while man has been going along improving everything else, he has neglected to better his own condition.

"Every animal which man has gathered from the forest and the plain and has domesticated, he has improved until they are more efficient and in every way finer than their wild ancestors," he said. "By the application of the same principle to the vegetable world even more marvelous results have been produced. Man has improved every useful creature and every useful plant with which he has come in contact with the exception of his own species. In his haste to become civilized man has neglected to provide for the departure from normal conditions which civilization necessarily involves.

"We need not return to savagery to be healthy; but we must see that the air we breathe is as clean as that which the savage breathes, that the food we eat is as pure and wholesome as the water we drink. We must cultivate clean blood instead of blue blood.

"Prizes should be offered for the finest families and the best health and endurance records. A eugenics registry office is needed to establish a race of human thoroughbreds. Eugenics and eusthenics applied with liberal intelligence will save the race from the destruction which race degeneracy threatens."

Mental and physical efficiency tests held in connection with the conference among the children of the public schools and nearly a thousand infants, demonstrated the sub-normality of the average child. Among the babies only one in ten was found to approach perfection nearly enough to warrant a second examination.

The defectives in public schools were even more numerous proportionately. Only eight out of five thousand qualified in all tests for the medals offered, though a dozen others were selected from the "next bests" and were given medals.

The tests in the schools showed an alarming lack of physical efficiency among girls, due, the examiners discovered, to lack of proper exercise. Dental inefficiency was very pronounced in all grades and disqualified hundreds who were able to pass in the physical and mental tests.

Lum Kee, a Chinese boy of six years, one of the two Chinese children in the public schools, was one of the medal winners in the school contests. He is regarded as a superb physical and mental type. Another winner was the American-born son of a native Greek confectioner. Other winners in both the school and baby contests were of native American stock. A notable fact is that the fathers of the winners in the baby contest are total abstainers from alcohol and tobacco, and this rule is largely true of the fathers of children winning in the school contests.

THE WONDER OF RADIUM ---SCARCITY OF PRODUCT

How It Is At Present Being Produced In The United States.

With the radium selling at $180,000 a gram, and one gram the largest quantity for which an order can be taken, it will not require many freight cars to transport the entire output of the plant at Sellersville, Penn., to the market; yet it is interesting to know that we have at our doors an establishment which is engaged in giving to the world the insubstantial substance that seems to play an all-important part in the materia medica of the future.

A pound of radium would be worth $32,000,000. Dr. Kelly has estimated that there are now from 1 1/2 to 20 grams in the entire world. A thousand tons of ore in the Paradox Valley (Colorado) mines of the new "Radium Institute" yield seven grams. Though the life of radium is approximately 2,000 years, the enormous number of victims of cancer make it imperative to increase the meager available supply; if there is any hope of using it on a large scale as a therapeutic agent. Philadelphia's death rate from this cause is 87.2 per 100,000, as compared with 111.2 for Boston and 12.8 for Albany. The average rate for the whole country is 75 per 100,000. In other words the deaths due to this dread malady number about 47,000 a year.

With the organization of the $1,000,000 corporation by Mr. DuPont this region is becoming the center of the world's radium industry. This important development is in conformity with the tradition which in the early days of our country established Philadelphia's pre-eminence in medical science, maintained to the present day.—[Philadelphia Ledger.]

The "Mischief Quartette" and Its Work.

Each year the month of January numbers its list of victims from influenza, la grippe, bronchitis and pneumonia. La grippe coughs seriously weaken the system and when they hang on, are a sign of general debility. The use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will promptly check the cough, heal the inflamed air passages, preventing the development of la grippe to a more serious condition. Keep it on hand. Contains no opiates. For sale by all druggists.

ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous In Ohio County.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of evidence of their worth. J. C. Weatherholt, grocer, Cloverport, Ky., says: "Two years ago I had little idea that I would ever be well again. In fact, I had settled up my affairs, believing that it would be impossible for me to last a great while longer. The pain in my back was terrible, especially when I stooped. It seemed as if someone had run a knife into me. My heart action was irregular. I became dizzy and often had to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My knee joints were swollen to twice their normal size. I had lost weight until I was a skeleton. The kidney secretions contained sediment and the passages were painful. Doctor's medicine did me no good, neither did the so-called kidney cures I took. A friend had been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and on his advice, I decided to try them. I was surprised and delighted with the results of their use. I was cured."

RETAIL DRUGGISTS OF OHIO COUNTY SOON TO RECEIVE NEW MEDICINE

An "External" Vapor Treatment That Relieves Colds Over Night, Croup in Fifteen Minutes—Coupon Below Good for a 25-Cent Package Free.

People, especially mothers with small children, will be glad to know that the new "outside" treatment for croup and colds, that has made such a success in the South, will shortly be introduced here. A number of the leading druggists are arranging to give away packages free. If your druggist is one of these, the coupon below will entitle you to receive free a full-size 25-cent package.

This treatment is entirely different from the usual "internal" medicines which disturb the digestion and are especially injurious to the delicate stomachs of children. It is the form of a salve that is applied externally over the throat and chest. In severe cases it is covered with a warm flannel cloth. The heat of the body releases the soothing, antiseptic vapors of Thymol, Eucalyptol, Menthol, etc., which are inhaled with each breath. At the same time the preparation is absorbed through the skin, taking out the soreness and tightness.

In cases of croup a little rubbed over the chest will render the breathing easier in five minutes and in fifteen minutes the trouble is over. The most severe head or chest colds are usually relieved in one night. For all bronchial troubles, tonsillitis, hoarseness and difficult breathing this new treatment will be found wonderfully effective.

It is a positive protection against pneumonia in its earlier stages and in advanced cases the medicated vapors inhaled loosen the phlegm and ease the difficult breathing, without interfering with other forms of treatment.

And the best part about it is that this preparation can be used with perfect safety on the youngest member of the family. The full formula is given on every wrapper.

None of the druggists have as yet received their shipments but as the free supply is limited it is advisable to present your coupon at once and ask your druggist to reserve you a free package—James H. Williams, 214 Main St., Hartford, Ky.

LOOK ON THE FIRST PAGE

Or the wrapper around your Herald. You will find a little yellow slip. It has printed on it your name and a date after it. The date shows when your subscription expires or when it did expire. This is all the book we keep of your subscription account, and there is no excuse for you not knowing just how you stand with THE HERALD. We are trying to get our subscription list on a strictly cash-in-advance basis, so as to avoid trouble and misunderstanding. We do not want to force the paper upon anybody against their will, but we want all that is due us. Please give this matter your very prompt attention. Look at that little yellow slip containing your name. It will tell you just what you need to know, without any explanation from us. If it is wrong in any way, let us know. Anyhow, please pay us what is due. It takes much money to run a good newspaper nowadays, hence we must keep our subscription accounts collected up. Either come to The Herald office and pay the arrears and a year in advance, or, if you are not coming to town soon, send us a check or post-office money-order for the amount due. We will appreciate it and it will make us think you really want the paper.

HER LOVE FOR HER STEPFATHER

Led Girl To Plan Murder
Of Mother.

KILLING DONE SO CLEVERLY

Coroner Was Deceived and Rendered Verdict Of Accidental Death.

TELE-GRAM LETTERS REVEAL IT

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 21.—Robert Higgins confessed here that he murdered his wife at New Henderson, Ill., January 5, so he would be free to marry his stepdaughter, Julia Flake, 15 years old.

He was arrested after the girl told State's Attorney John M. Wilson, of Mercer county, of her infatuation for Higgins and that she implored him to dispose of her mother, who, she said, was the only obstacle between her and happiness.

The prosecutor hesitated to believe the girl's story of the extraordinary pact she entered into with her stepfather, but she told how they had schemed for hours devising a plan which would make Mrs. Higgins' death appear accidental. She said she was in the next room when Higgins fired the shotgun which brought instant death to her mother.

She told how Higgins raved and struggled with neighbors for possession of the gun, saying he would end his life. Then, when the excitement subsided somewhat, she said they explained that Higgins had been cleaning the gun, and it had been accidentally discharged.

Their story was so convincing that the coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death. Later C. W. Ernst, a maternal uncle of the girl, took two letters written by Julia Flake—one to herself and one to his daughter—to State's Attorney Wilson. In these letters the girl offered part of a legacy of $7,000, she is to receive when she becomes of age provided they would help her to kill her mother. Mr. Wilson thought the letters were written in a fit of anger, but he investigated.

Saturday he called in State's Attorney A. J. Boutelle, of Knox county, and Sunday they went to see Julia, who was at the home of another uncle, A. J. Ernst, at Hermon. They were astounded by her story.

Higgins, who is 26 years old, and several years the junior of the woman he killed, was found Monday at New Henderson. He was questioned for several hours and made many contradictions. Enroute to the county jail at Aledo, in an automobile, he broke down.

"I can't stand it any longer," he moaned. "I'll tell everything."

The journey was interrupted at Aledo, where Higgins was taken into a bank office and signed a type-written confession.

He gave what he said were all the details of the murder plot, and asserted his infatuation for his stepdaughter was the cause of it all. He said that Mrs. Higgins became suspicious of his relations with her daughter and they planned to get rid of her.

The girl, who is at the home of an aunt here, became hysterical on learning that Higgins' confession.

Turns Against Stepfather.

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 22.—Robert Higgins in jail at Aledo, Ill., to-day expressed his determination to fight for his freedom despite his confession of murdering his wife. He said his conscience was clear, and he would establish his innocence. He said he did not know there was a shell in the gun when he pulled the trigger.

Higgins' attorneys are said to have advised their client to plead guilty, and rest on the court's mercy, but are now considering an insanity plea.

Julia to-day turned upon her stepfather, and said he tempted her, and she would go on the witness stand and send him to the gallows. It was her fifteenth birthday. For the first time she seemed to realize the enormity of her crime in plotting her mother's death.

Lippincott's For February.

The February Lippincott's deals with everything that is timely, without sacrificing literary charm and with no ephemeral makeshifts. The leading feature is, of course, the complete novel—a romance of war-ridden Mexico, entitled "The Message of the Sword," by Clinton Dan-gerfield.

Another remarkable feature of the issue is a paper on "Modern Sibyls," by Lady Ritchie, daughter of William Makepeace Thackeray. In it she discourses most entertainingly on the famous literary women who have known. Samuel Scoville gives us another of his sparkling articles on modern methods of swindling—"Trappers of Men." The National Currency Bill is fully described in a financial article by Edward Sherwood Mead, Ph. D. Other papers of importance are "St. Valentine's Day," by Edwin L. Sahlin; "Lower Prices for Theater Tickets," by Robert Gran; and "Futile Railings," by Minna Thomas Antrim.

The singularly telling short-stories are: "The Home of the Happy Lady," by Florence Selden Peple; "Mixed Doubles," by Owen Oliver; "When Lummox Gets a Head Mark," by T. C. McConnell; "The Other Man's Story," by Kenneth Groesbeck; and "The Missus and the Kids," by Harold Playter.

Bible Facts.
Do you realize that there are 80,000 college men in 18 different countries in voluntary Bible classes?

Also that 350,000 young men were reported last year as members of the Baruch Bible classes?

Also that the Y. M. C. A. reported last year 97,332 enrolled in classes for Bible study?

Also that 28,562 students took short courses of Bible study in 490 different institutions of the country?

Also that in the Sunday Schools of the world 28,011,199 persons out of more than fifty nations are studying the Bible?

His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Barker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by all dealers.

COFFEE WITH ALCOHOL

—IT KEEPS YOU AWAKE

In drawing a comparison between coffee and tea, the results show that while the alkaloid caffeine in coffee is identical with that in tea, yet its associations in coffee are quite different. In tea infusions the alkaloid occurs chiefly as a tannate, which is a compound insoluble in the acid juices of the stomach. In coffee it occurs as an easily soluble compound. Here would appear to be the explanation of the prompt action of coffee as a restorative and stimulant, particularly when employed as an antidote to narcotic poisons. In the same way coffee probably serves to overcome to some extent the narcotic effect of alcohol, and to render a person wakeful owing to its stimulating effect upon the central nervous system.—[The Lancet.]

Best Cough Remedy For Children.

"I am very glad to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Lida Dewey, Milwaukee, Wis. I have used it for years both for my children and myself and it never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. No family with children should be without it, as it gives almost immediate relief in cases of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is pleasant and safe to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by all dealers.

HE RISES FROM COFFIN

AND PUTS UP A SCRAP

Chicago, January 22.—The "Human Tuler" has been found. The discovery led to both the "discoverer" and the "ruler" being brought before Judge Squify.

"We were making a coffin," George Iycoch told the court, "and I told Clyde Olin, who works with me at the casket factory, that the coffin was 5 feet 4 inches long, just my height. He bet me that it wasn't. I crawled into it to prove it, and then he screwed down the lid. When I got out I tried to kick him."

"I don't blame you," said the Judge, "but I'll put you both under peace bonds."

"TAKE HIM," SAYS THE PREACHER'S GOOD WIFE

To Her Husband's Young and Pretty "Soul-Mate"—
The Man's Excuse.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 22.—Rev. J. W. Foster and Mrs. Maude Deane, young and pretty "soul mate" of the Baptist divine, will not be prosecuted by Mrs. Foster. The wife announced to-day that she would turn her preacher husband over to Mrs. Deane.

"I shall not prosecute," said Mrs. Foster, who has borne Foster seven children and is still attractive. "I think it is better for all of us to let Mrs. Deane have Mr. Foster. I only hope she will serve him as faithfully as I have done."

Foster was relieved when told of his wife's decision.

"I am glad she has decided to view the matter so sensibly," he said. "If she had taken that view long ago this trouble would have been avoided. Mrs. Deane and myself are physical and spiritual affiliates and we cannot keep apart. I shall get a divorce and marry Mrs. Deane, though the ceremony will be purely conventional, as we are already spiritually wedded."

"I am going to continue in the Baptist ministry. I have done nothing for which I should be excluded from the pulpit. I know that the world is holding up its hands in horror at what I have done, but I do not think I have committed any sin in view of the circumstances, and I feel serene in the conviction that I will be amply forgiven for what I have done."

Wonderful Cough Remedy.

Dr. King's New Discovery is known everywhere as the remedy which will surely stop a cough or cold. D. P. Lawson, of Eldon, Tenn., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the most wonderful cough, cold and throat and lung medicine I ever sold in my store. It can't be beat. It sells without any trouble at all. It needs no guarantee." This is true, because Dr. King's New Discovery will relieve the most obstinate of coughs and colds. Lung troubles quickly helped by its use. You should keep a bottle in the house at all times for all members of the family. 50c and $1. All druggists or by mail, H. E. The High Cost of War.

We are now informed that the Italian War cost $745,000,000 and that the net result has been the killing of 228,000 men. The per capita price seems to be a very high one, something over $3,000; but then what can one expect from these primitive people unversed in the methods of civilized commerce? Recent police disclosures in New York show that the average price of a murder is about $25, and probably even this price could be reduced on taking a quantity. Evidently the Balkan peoples have much to learn both in markets and marksmanship.—[The Argonaut.]

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

Entered at the Hartford post-office as mail matter of the second class.

It's a hard guess nowadays as to which is becoming the most extinct
—the Bull Moose or the Republican Party.

Perhaps the most noticeable thing about the new eugenic marriage law is that it gives some parties a lot of free advertising.

"Chew your food well, if you'd go to heaven," says a New York Y.
M. C. A. doctor. If which he means that you will avoid dyspepsia, which makes a person ill natured and naturally of evil disposition. By inference, of course, it also means to chew the rag less.

Louisville is now demanding extraordinary attention as the point for the location of one of the regional banks whose activities were created by the recently passed currency law. It would be a financially strategic location and all Kentuckians hope that the Falls City will be favored with this privilege.

Mr. John A. Bell, for 48 years a newspaper man and editor, died at his home in Georgetown, Ky., last Wednesday. He was editor and founder of the Georgetown Times and was 80 years old at the time of his death. During his long and able career he was several times honored outside of his profession, having been a member of the Legislature, postmaster and president of the Kentucky Press Association. He was the oldest editor in the State, and his long and honorable career was full of high esteem and respect.

It has been stated that whiskey brings in more revenue to the State's coffers than any other manufacture. Perhaps it does, but a look at the other side will judge whether it pays in the "long run."
It costs the Government a big sum of money to pay the storekeepers and gaugers who have charge of its manufacture, and it costs the State a vast sum of money in the way of court proceedings to handle the victims of its traffic. Taken altogether, even in a cold-blooded, statistical way, the manufacture of whiskey is not profitable to either State or Nation.

The Ohio County Farmers' Institute held in Hartford two days of last week was tolerably well attended, but the event in the whole was not what it should have been, either in the matter of interest or attendance. This was probably due to two causes—the great mass of farmers seemed to care little about it, and the event was not sufficiently advertised. Neither of the Hartford papers was furnished with sufficient information to properly feature the event, but both gave it some notice, both before and during the meeting. General apathy among farmers, however, was plainly evident both days.

In the February American Magazine, George Fitch, the Illinois humorist, writes a piece entitled "The Homeburg Weekly Democrat"—another in his series about the small town and its characters. Following is an extract giving his idea about the competitors of a country newspaper:

"When you are running a weekly paper your competitors in the news business are the talkers in the town who mingle seven days a week and issue a hundred thrilling extras to their fellow citizens before your press day comes around."

Yes, and those "extras" sometimes embody more sensational and scandalous stuff than the country editor would dare to print, unless he had everything packed for a trip to Europe just before the papers were put in the post-office.

GETTING READY FOR A LOCAL OPTION ELECTION

The Owensboro Messenger says:
It is practically certain that there will be an attempt to hold in Owensboro and Daviess county, in the early spring, an election to determine whether liquors shall be sold in the county and city.

For some time past the situation has been quietly canvassed by persons interested in a local option election, looking to the feasibility of undertaking to obtain the required twenty-five per cent. in every city and county precinct of those voting at the last election, as signers to the petitions necessary to present to the county court.

It is claimed that a poll of each precinct in the city has been carefully made and it was ascertained that the required twenty-five per cent. of the voters could be obtained to petition the county court to order an election.

No date has been fixed for attempting to hold the election, nor have the petitions been started out.

Later—The Owensboro Messenger
of yesterday says:

An effort will be made to hold a local option election in Owensboro and Daviess county, the county and city voting as a unit, on Saturday, June 6. This decision was reached at a meeting held by the Daviess County Local Option association at the Odd Fellows hall on Monday night.

Mr. W. B. Renter and wife, who had been visiting relatives in Texas and Oklahoma for the past three months, arrived home last Saturday.
They report a most delightful trip.

CONSOLIDATED NEAR A SALE OF TOBACCO

The Owensboro Messenger of yesterday says:

It is known that by noon to-day the Owensboro buyers will have put in bids for every pound of pooled tobacco held by the Consolidated Tobacco Growers' Association. The Executive Board of the Consolidated was in session practically all day Monday. The association headquarters were visited by a number of buyers, and those who failed to meet with the board on Monday will do so early this morning.

It is known that the board is considering two propositions for the sale of the tobacco.

It was indicated on Monday night that a call will be issued at an early date for a meeting of the Consolidated poolers to pass on an offer which has been made for the tobacco in pool.

The board will be in session again to-day, and it is believed that a definite statement will be given out before night.

A TEXAS WONDER.

The Texas Wonder cures kidney

ARE SEEING LAST OF RENO COLONY

The Divorce Seekers Got Very Busy

BEFORE THE NEW 1-YEAR LAW

Went Into Effect—Notorious Reno Law Was Recently Amended.

A TOTAL OF MANY DIVORCES

After four years of continuous activity, from 1910 to 1914, the "Reno Divorce Colony," numbering during this four-year period 2,216 men and women, is addressing its last days. Nobody-one rushed in just as the curtain was about to fall, during December—the last day, December 31—breaking all daily records for the four years. Approximately 300 more are safe within the closed door, having begun their residence prior to July 1 last and filed their complaints prior to New Year's Day.

Some have secured their decrees and departed within the present month, while others will not see the termination of their suits until February or even later. In the meantime the remaining of the 300 colonists will continue as heretofore, until the colony shall have passed into history.

Nevada's divorce law, repealed by the last session of the Legislature, was adopted 52 years ago. It required two years' residence in the State as necessary to the instituting of divorce actions upon the ground of nonsupport and desertion. Fourteen years later the law was amended to a six-months' residence requirement for any and all divorce actions. This law has since been in effect until this year, when it was changed to a one-year residence requirement, effective January 1, 1914.

So it is not surprising that the last six months has witnessed the presence of throngs of these strangers in Nevada, eager to secure a residence here under the old law.

The recent rush of Eastern people manifests itself conspicuously by the added activities in many lines of business, catering to these temporary residents. Every evening from the early dinner hour until 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning the cafes, recently enlarged, have presented scenes of festivity.

The total number of actions filed during the colony's period of greatest activity, the last four years to January 1, were:

Year.	Cases.	Year.	Cases.
1910.....	492	1913.....	590
1911.....	546
1912.....	588	Grand total.	2,216

The last rush brought the number of divorce seekers from other States up to approximately 650—390 women and 260 men. The average of the divorces (women) is at least six years' younger than previously; the large number of young women, hardly more than seemingly girls, among the last arrivals has been a matter of general observation and comment. There have been until recently about 30 divorces here under assumed or maiden names, for the purpose of covering identity.

About 120 of the colony have immediately remarried here, in most instances to their "affinity," who has been simultaneously living here either also for a divorce or to be

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Are Told How to Regain Strength and Vigor.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil is the ideal strengthening and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary Ivey, of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew the good Vinol does old people, I am sure you would be unable to supply the demand. I never took anything before that did me so much good as Vinol.
It is the finest tonic and strength-creator I ever used in my life."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble, old people, and create strength we will return your money.

PROPOSALS FOR BRIDGE LUMBER.

In compliance with an order of the Ohio County Fiscal Court, I will receive sealed bids from now until February 16, 1914, for furnishing all bridge and culvert timbers to be used in each of the voting precincts of Ohio county, Kentucky, for the year of 1914. Said lumber to be furnished of either whiteoak, black-oak, red oak or chestnut, and of such dimensions as may be required for each separate bridge or culvert, and to be delivered on the ground and at such points and in such quantities in each of said precincts as may be required for said use, under my direction, and I hereby reserve the right to reject any or all bids that are not satisfactory to myself and the Fiscal Court of Ohio county, Ky.
Bids to be enclosed in an envelope and marked "Sealed Bid" with no other name on them, this envelope to be enclosed in another which may be stamped and addressed to T. H.

CHILDREN'S DAY

During our Great Majestic Range Demonstration was extremely interesting. Read the answers of the children to the question "Why is the Great Majestic the most durable Range?" Master Otho Burch Taylor
Taylor was the prize-winner. Note his reasons:

NO. 1—The Great Majestic is the most durable Range made because it is made of the very best material and uses little fuel and the Economy of the home must begin in the kitchen. The Majestic heats quickly, bakes perfectly and in great quantities and is easy to keep clean.
OTHO BURCH TAYLOR.

NO. 2—We are using the Great Majestic Range and we think it is the greatest Range on the market. It cooks with little coal and it is easily heated. It is one of the easiest to keep clean and bright and it won't warp from heat.
GWENDOLINE CHINN.

NO. 3—The Great Majestic Range is the most durable because it is iron and lasts the longest and cooks and bakes the best. We have one and that is why I think so.
DENA MAE FUQUA.

NO. 4—The Great Majestic Range is the best Range made because it is made of the best material, because it takes less fuel and it has a thermometer to regulate the heat.
THELMA NEWTON.

NO. 5—The Great Majestic Range is the most durable Range made because it is made of good material and will last longer. It is lined with asbestos board and it does not take as much fuel for the Majestic as for other Ranges. If you will take good care of the Majestic Range it will last a lifetime. The Majestic Range has a nice reservoir to the stove.
RUTH STEVENS.

NO. 6—The Great Majestic Range is the most durable because it is the best Range made. Then the Majestic Range does not take as much fuel as the other ranges. It bakes quicker than any other range.
LUMIE TAYLOR.

NO. 7—The Great Majestic Range is the most durable because it is the most perfectly made Range ever known. It heats quicker, takes less fuel, lasts longer and bakes better than any other Range made. It does not rust and is air tight. That is more than you can say of other stoves. When you buy a range you have three ends in view—economy, durability and the best for the least money.
The next time you have a Range to buy, try the Majestic and prove to yourself its good qualities.
MATTIE BALTZELL.

NO. 8—The Majestic Range is made of the best material in the world. The inside of the Range is all lined with the best of asbestos. This makes it durable. The Majestic Range uses little fuel, and bakes quicker than any other Range. Then the Majestic Range will last a lifetime if you take proper care of it.
FLORENCE TAYLOR.

NO. 9—The Majestic Range cooks better than any other kind. It is a better make. It has a fifteen-gallon water tank. It is the best range made.
AULIE MILLER.

NO. 10—The Majestic Range is made of old-time iron and they are the best stoves made. They are handy and you can cook quicker than with other stoves. They have closets at the top of the stove.
They have a place to keep hot water. You can cook more than the others. They are made of better materials than other stoves.
WILFORD HODGES.

NO. 11—The Majestic Range is sold all over the United States, as well as all over the world. It uses very little fuel and is easy to keep clean. If cared for well, it will last a lifetime.
ELLA BELLE AUSTIN.

NO. 12—The Great Majestic Range is the most durable because it is made of the old-time iron.
VERA HUNTSMAN.

NO. 13—The Majestic is the most durable Range because it is built on honor, of the very best hammered iron. It cannot break, and does not rust.
LUCILE BURTON.

NO. 14—The Great Majestic Range is more durable than any other Range because it bakes perfectly and heats an abundance of water. It is lined with asbestos board. The Great Majestic Range is the standard.
(No Name)

NO. 15—The Great Majestic is the most durable because it is supposed to be made of the very best material.
WAYLAND RENDER.

NO. 16—The Great Majestic Range is most durable because it is made of the old-time iron that is good.
CLAUDE HUNTSMAN.

NO. 17—The Great Majestic Range is the most durable Range made because it is made of the old-time durable iron.
ORVILLE HUNTSMAN.

NO. 18—The Great Majestic Range is the most durable because it is made of the best materials. It takes less fuel and it has a thermometer to regulate the heat.
E. H. NEWTON.

NO. 19—The Great Majestic Range is most durable because it is made of the best malleable and charcoal iron.
MARION RUMMAGE.

NO. 20—The Great Majestic Range is most durable because it is made of charcoal iron that lasts the longest and uses the least fuel.
FRED FUQUA.

NO. 21—I think the Great Majestic is the most durable Range made because it is a good cooker and made of good material.
HUBERT PETERS.

NO. 22—The Great Majestic is the most durable range made because it is made of the best materials and uses less fuel.
GILBERT DOSS.

NO. 23—The Great Majestic Range is the most durable made because it is made of the best material and because it takes less fuel,
it has a thermometer to regulate the heat.
ELLAV MAY HOCKER.

NO. 24—It is made of better material than any other stove and can stand more use and wear, therefore it is the most durable Range made.
MAURICE TAYLOR.

NO. 25—The Great Majestic is the most durable Range because it is the best.
WALLACE CRICK.

NO. 26—The Great Majestic is the best Range made because it is built of malleable and charcoal iron.
E. H. OLDHAM.

NO. 27—The Great Majestic is the most durable because it is made of the best material and is the best cooking Range made.

Rev. A. S. Pettie, of Owensboro, has been called and has accepted the pastorate of the Hartford Baptist Church. He comes to this charge the first of March. He preached two excellent sermons at the Baptist church here last Sunday morning and night.

The Ohio County Board of Supervisors, composed of Hosea Shown, W. T. Keown, W. F. Sanderfur, Eljah Reader, S. H. Rinder and O. R. Tinsley, clerk, reconvened Monday and are hearing those whose property was raised. They will likely adjourn Friday.

Owing to a breakdown of our largest gasoline engine, the greater part of the last issue of The Herald was printed on the cylinder press of the Hartford Republican. This was a privilege graciously accorded by Col. Barrett and thankfully accepted by the Herald.

The exhuming trial of Arthur Nance, charged with aiding and abetting the murder of Ed Johnson, an account of which appeared in a recent issue of The Herald, came up before County Judge Wilson last Saturday, but was postponed until to-day on account of the commonwealth not being ready. Nance gave bond for his appearance in the sum of $500.

What promises to be one of the most delightful entertainments of the season will be that given at Hartford College Friday night by Miss Cora Lee Smith, who comes on behalf of the Ladies' Literary Club of Hartford. Miss Smith is an entertainer of much ability and she never fails to delight her audiences. She should be given a hearty welcome and a large crowd. Reserved seat tickets are on sale by the Ohio County Drug Co.

District Game Warden Sam F. Riley arrested T. R. Vick on the bank of Rough river, near the locks below town, last Saturday, upon the charge of failing to show his hunting license when called upon for same. Vick was brought to Hartford and tried before County Judge Wilson and fined $10 and costs. Upon failure to pay fine or replevy, Vick was sent to jail, where he now is. The prisoner claims to be a resident of Central City.

Lost in Court House At Hartford, last Thursday, a dark fur cape—was left on seat. Reward for its return to Mrs. Jennie T. McHenry, Hartford.

Appreciated Favours. The following parties have either called on or remembered The Herald in a substantial way within the past week:

Richard Moseley, McHenry; O. W. Williams, Beaver Dam, Route 3; Thomas Smith, Barrett's Ferry; O. P. Brunton, Beaver Dam; Albert Cox, Hartford, Route 1; J. C. Riley, J. D. Duke, L. P. Turner, city; E. Fire at Delaware.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 26.—Delaware, a small town near here, was almost totally destroyed by fire this morning. The fire started from some unknown cause in Hick's dry goods store. From there it spread to the Woodmen building and then to a residence and the post-office, all of which were destroyed.

There was no fire-fighting apparatus in the town. The fire simply burned itself out. The blaze was seen for ten miles in every direction.

For Sale.

One pair of gray horses, seven years old, 16 and 16½ hands high. The pair weigh twenty-three hundred pounds, straight and sound. Price reasonable. Call on or address, FRED FAUGHT, Olaton, Ky.

L. M. Stetler Dead.

Mr. L. M. Stetler died at his home, near Cromwell, Wednesday and was buried at Oakwood, Hartford, Thursday morning. He had been ill for several months, having undergone a serious surgical operation. Mr. Stetler was 75 years old and belonged to one of the old families of the county. His ancestors were among the pioneers of the State and figured largely in the early history of Ohio county. He leaves one son, Mr. Guy Stetler, who is manager for the Williams Coal Co.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to extend our sincere thanks for kindness and heartfelt sympathy shown in the loss of our beloved brother and father, L. M. Stetler, who departed from this life January 20th. Especially do we thank our good neighbors for their kind and friendly administration in his last lingering illness, as also the Revs. Russell and Napier for their words of consolation, and the donors of the beautiful floral offerings, and to all who assisted to lighten our burden during our great bereavement.

THE FRUGAL PAST

A Pair of Trousers Went a Long Way in the Good Old Days.

WAIL OF A MAN IN A GROUCH.

His Wife's Reckless Gift to a Tramp of One of His Battered Castoff Garments Moved Him to a Touching Discourse on the Vice of Extravagance.

"A poor man came to the door this afternoon and asked if I had any old clothes I could spare," said Mrs. Jamesworthy. "I gave him those gray trousers of yours, as they were too badly worn out for you to use them again. They were all faded and full of holes."

"The next time you undertake to distribute my raiment among the proletariat, Mrs. Jamesworthy," returned her grumpy husband, "you might at least consult me. You are assuming altogether too much when you take it for granted that I am done with a pair of trousers. As things are going now in the business world I find it expedient to wear such garments so long as there is any way to fasten my suspenders to them."

"Times are growing worse and worse, and the financial stringency is breaking all records, and the man who strives to support his family has troubles enough without coming home to find that the wife of his bosom has given his purple and fine then to some body's wandering boy."

"I had expected to get two seasons' wear out of those trousers, and I had a sentimental fondness for them, as I wore those trousers on that red letter day when, three years ago, I stood in the White House and proudly shook hands with the illustrious president of this great and glorious republic. I hoped to hand them down to my children's children, so that when I am cold in my grave they might contemplate those historic trousers with streaming eyes and recall the glorious occasion I have referred to. Now I no longer have a souvenir of my meeting with the president, and posterity is robbed of a great privilege by reason of your heedless course."

"I'd never think of giving away anything of yours without your approval, Mrs. Jamesworthy. Time and again I have been tempted to call in some poor but respectable widow with a large family to support and give her your false hair, which has become an eyesore to me, as I find it lying around wherever I go, but I felt it would be doing you an injustice and rebuffed. Yet when an unknown hobo comes to our door asking for refreshments you hand him my cherished trousers, which are more to me than pride of ancestry or pomp of power."

"Your action is a fair sample of the extravagance which keeps men forever walking in the shadow of the poorhouse. I have no doubt that my saluted mother would roll over in her grave if she could know of such doings. Under her wise and skillful management my father had a chance to accumulate a few phylacteries for his old age. He wore his trousers until they were full of holes; then my mother took them and half sold them and made them as good as new, and he wore them for another term of years until it was impossible to tell what their original color might have been."

"When they were too far gone for further use mother made them over so the older son could wear them, and when he had used them five or six years there still was enough sound material in them to make a pair for the youngest son. I was that youngest son, and all through my boyhood and even in early manhood I was wearing expurgated editions of my father's trousers."

"You may make as many faces as you please, Mrs. Jamesworthy, and point the finger of scorn until the cows come home, but that doesn't change the fact that it was economy of this sort that kept our parents in ignorance of such things as the bankruptcy court and the associated charities. When I had worn those historic trousers for a few summers and winters, until they would answer the purpose no longer, my mother cut them up into strips and made rag carpets of them, and those rag carpets were more sensible and more serviceable than the tailor made affairs you have strewn over these floors."

"After this, please, you will call me into executive session before giving away any of my habiliments, Mrs. Jamesworthy."—Walt Mason in Chicago News.

Concrete Bells.

The peculiar vibratory or nonvibratory properties of concrete are strikingly shown in bells made of this material. A bell cast in concrete will ring almost like a metal bell, but a slight touch of the hand serves immediately to stop vibration and the resulting sound. This is due to the lack of homogeneity from the standpoint of sound transmission.—London Standard.

On the Go.

"My husband is not home two nights a month."

"You should get the minister to see him."

"He is the minister—always being called away to see people."—Kansas City Journal.

When you don't need any help it is wonderful how many people are eager to come to your assistance.—Philadelphia Record.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

His Lesson Learned.

A darkey had been tried and found guilty of murder, and was sentenced to be hung. The time set for the execution had arrived, and the condemned negro was led to the scaffold.

"Rastus," said the sheriff, "have you anything to say before the sentence of the law is carried into execution?"

"No, boss," replied the prisoner. "I ain't no speechifier, but I suddenly believes dis am gwine to be a lesson to me."—(Philadelphia Telegraph.)

DUMME'S DEDUCTIONS
INSTANTLY REBUTED

"I have been expecting her for some time," declared Mr. Dubbe, "and there she is."

"There is who?" asked his wife.

"The woman tramp," answered Dubbe. "Anybody could tell that she is a hobo. Observe how she slouches along with her shoulders humped, her stomach projecting, and her hands thrust into the pockets of some man's discarded overcoat. Yes, and look at her shoes! The heels worn clear off!"

"Silly," giggled Mrs. Dubbe. "She is one of our sweetest society girls. In the latest figure, gait and garb."

Worth Knowing.

The smallest living things are the microbes that are found in the earth, the air, water and our bodies. So there are some rod-like microbes that it would take 10,000,000 placed end to end, to reach a yard, while 100,000,000 would only cover a nickel, and it would take 640,000,000,000,000 to make a solid cubic inch. Microbes if nourished will multiply more than a millionfold an hour. A single grain of earth will contain from 1,000 to 300,000 microbes. Without them we would have neither health nor disease.

WORLD ALMANAC FOR 1914

This Indispensable Reference Book
—1914 Edition—More Complete Than Ever.

Like wine, The World Almanac improves with age. The 1914 edition is now off the press, more accurate and complete, of greater value as a reference book, than ever. This publication should be in every home; it will take the place of a dozen other ordinary books of reference costing not less than a dollar each, while this little giant is mailed by the publishers for 35 cents postpaid. Following is a partial list of the most important and new features appearing in the 1914 edition: Kosmic Changes in the Earth, New Tariff Duties, Domestic Parcel Post, The Panama Canal to Date, Manufacturing Industries, Medical Progress in 1913, State Legislation in All States, Income Tax Law, Corporation Tax Law, Up-to-Date Sporting Records, Irish Home Rule Movement, President Wilson's Pence Proposal, The Episcopal General Convention, The World's Conference on Christian Unity, Benefactions of 1913, American Women Who Married Foreign Titles, Music and Drama, Expositions of 1914 and 1915, Impeachment of Gov. Sulzer, Art Progress, Social Hygiene, Mothers' Pensions, Electrical Progress, Geographical Research, Scientific Progress, Literature.

In addition there are 25,000 other facts and figures of everyday interest to everybody; almost indispensable to the business man, merchant, farmer, mechanic, housewife, school teacher, school boy or school girl. Mailed anywhere for 35 cents. Address, The New York World, New York City.

Wife!

"It says here that a German scientist has discovered that there are 50,000,000 insects in each cubic foot of air," remarked the Old Fogey.

"If that is true," commented the Grouch, "there's a pneumatic mattress on my bed in the boarding house where I live."

Women and Wet Feet.

Cold and wet feet are a dangerous combination, especially to women, who are more prone to kidney disease than men. Congested kidneys come from a cold, and backache, rheumatism, urinary irregularities and rheumatic pains are not unusual results. Foley Kidney Pills restore the regular and normal action of the kidneys and bladder, and so remove the cause of the trouble. It is an honest and curative medicine that always gives results. Lexington Daily Leader and Hartford Herald Only $4.00 a Year For Both.

During January and February only, mail subscriptions will be received at The Herald office for the Lexington Daily and Sunday Leader and the Hartford Herald at $4.00 for both papers. The Leader publishes afternoon and Sunday editions with full Associated Press dispatches and special news service covering the entire State of Kentucky. It is a conservative Republican paper, established by the late Sam J. Roberts and now edited and managed by Harry Giovannoli.

The February American Magazine.

Probably the most remarkable contribution to the February American Magazine is a description of an execution, written by F. P. Dunne of "Mr. Dooley" fame. Mr. Dunne was a Chicago newspaper reporter at the age of seventeen and as a reporter saw three men hung. This experience he describes and interprets with such vividness and wisdom as to make perhaps as wonderful a document on capital punishment as anywhere exists.

Edna Ferber, Kate Jordan, Alfred Ollivant, Samuel Merwin and Maravene Thompson contribute fiction. Prize-winning letters are published in the contest entitled "What is a Criminal?" The interesting People department contains five short articles about remarkable living Americans. James Montgomery Flagg, Kin Hubbard, Ed Howe and Oliver Herford make humorous contributions.

STES "DEAD" HUSBAND FOR LEGAL SEPARATION

Chicago, Jan. 20.—A story told by Mrs. Margaret Hurke, who brought suit for separate maintenance against her "dead" husband, is puzzling the court of domestic relations. Mrs. Hurke told how she had identified a body at the county hospital as that of her husband and had given an elaborate funeral on money derived from her husband's life insurance. Later when she went to the hospital to claim her husband's clothing a nurse told her a mistake had been made, that instead of receiving the body of her husband, Thomas Burke, she had received the body of a patient named McGuire. "I did not worry at first," said Mrs. Burke, "but last week several persons said they had seen my husband in State street with another woman. That is why I filed the suit."

HERE HE IS, LADIES— THIS IS YOUR CHANCE

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 24.—Otto C. Buck Spencer Churchill, 46 years old, claiming to be the possessor of an estate worth $30,000,000 and temporarily a resident of South Bend, is looking for a wife. He must have her by July 25, 1914.

Under the will of Samuel Spencer Churchill, late of London, England, and St. John's, Canada, by which the man now in South Bend declares he came into possession of his vast estate, he must marry before that time or $270,000, now in the Bank of England, will be forfeited and diverted to the uses of English charity.

Otto Buck Churchill, if his claims are substantiated, is the son of the late William Buck, of La Porte, Ind., cabinet manufacturer. He has engaged South Bend attorneys to represent his interest in the Buck estate now open in the La Porte Circuit Court.

Before returning to his ranch in Canada, Buck Churchill wants to take a wife, as required in the will of his foster father. A further provision of the will is that she must be an American girl.

A Difference in Working Hours.

A man's working day is 8 hours. His body organs must work perfectly 24 hours to keep him fit for 8 hours work. Weak, sore, inactive kidneys can not do it. They must be sound, healthy and active all the time. Foley Kidney Pills will make them sound and well. You can not take them into your system without good results following their use. They are tonic in action, quick in results, and contain no habit-forming drugs. Try them. For sale by all dealers. (Advertisement.)

THIS NEW MEDICINE SAVES YOU MONEY

We are a druggist right here in your town and make a living out of the drug business, but it is because people have to have drugs and not because we like to see people suffer—we don't. Our duty is to render the best service we can, and when someone is ailing, we are interested in seeing them take the best medicine there is for their particular trouble. We don't recommend "cure-alls," as we don't believe there are such things. We don't want you to spend more than you have to. Some of you get small wages, and when you're sick, none at all, and you should get the most you can for your money.

We recently came across a new remedy for increasing strength and building up people who are run-down and emaciated. We know that a slight trouble sometimes grows into a serious one, and to stop it in the beginning, will save you money in the end. This new compound is called Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is the best remedy, when you are run-down, tired out, nervous—no matter what the cause. It doesn't merely stimulate you and make you feel good for a few hours but takes hold of the weakness and builds you up to a healthy, normal condition. It is a real nerve-food tonic and builder of good blood, strong muscle, good digestion. It contains Hypophosphites, which tone the nerves, and pure Olive Oil, which nourishes the nerves, the blood and the entire system. Pleasant to take. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. We promise that if you are not perfectly satisfied with it, we'll give back your money as soon as you tell us. Sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00.—James H. Williams, 214 Main St., Hartford, Ky. (Advertisement.)

Rheumatism, Sprains Backache, Neuralgia

"Yes, daughter, that's good stuff. The pain in my back is all gone—I never saw anything work as quickly as Sloan's Liniment." Thousands of grateful people voice the same opinion. Here's the proof.

Relieved Pain in Back.
"I was troubled with a very bad pain in my back for some time. I went to a doctor but he did not do me any good, so I purchased a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, and now I am a well woman. I always keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment in the house."—Miss Marjorie Cotton, 304 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Sciatic Rheumatism.
"We have used Sloan's Liniment for over six years and found it the best we ever used. When my wife had sciatic rheumatism the only thing that did her any good was Sloan's Liniment. We cannot praise it highly enough."—Mr. J. J. Jones, Des Moines, Iowa.

Sprained Ankle Relieved.
"I was ill for a long time with a severely sprained ankle. I got a bottle of Sloan's Liniment and now I am able to be about and can walk a great deal. I write this because I think you deserve a lot of credit for putting such a fine Liniment on the market and I shall always take time to recommend Dr. Sloan's Liniment."—Mrs. Chas. H. His New Year's Resolutions

After All, They Were Unnecessary

By F. A. MITCHEL

Billy Henderson woke up on New Year's morning with a headache, a bad taste in his mouth and a feeling of general depression all over him. He remembered a confusion of sounds and scenes. There were music, the popping of champagne corks, laughter and a babel of voices. Billy saw himself sitting in a curtained window with a girl and had a dim remembrance of having spoken things to her that now seemed very ridiculous.

"I wonder," he said to himself, "if I've been making an ass of myself again."

Billy had seen the old year out and the new year in, in company with a party of boue companions. A new year lay before him. Should it be as unprofitable as the last? Should he continue to mingle with the fast set

"Well, I'll be jinged!" said Billy, with whom he had associated? No; he would cut them all. Extending his hand as he had seen persons make vows in the theater, he made the following resolution:

"I, William Henderson, solemnly resolve that I will, during the year before me, neither smoke, drink nor propose."

A town clock slowly and solemnly struck the hour of 12 as if to impress the importance of the vow upon its maker. At the last stroke the door opened and the butler entered, bearing a saucer on which nestled a delicate little note emitting a violet perfume. Billy kept his brows as he saw it and, taking it up, opened it, meanwhile directing the butler to bring him some soda water. The note read as follows:

My Dear Heart's Mate—I can't wait to tell you how happy you made me last night when you told me how deeply you

AN INCESSANT COUGH.

A severe cough is always a grave symptom. It may not indicate organic disease of the lungs. Even though the cough is a functional disturbance it is of sufficient gravity to demand prompt attention.

The dropping of mucus from the back part of the nose into the throat indicates nasal catarrh. Sometimes this goes on a long time before the patient pays any attention to it. It is stated on good authority that mucus dropping into the throat in this way is apt to excite catarrh of the stomach. At any rate, the condition ought to be corrected as soon as possible.

Mrs. Bourland, of Frankston, Texas, found after using Peruna that not only did the incessant cough disappear, but the dropping of mucus into the throat had also ceased. Read what she says:

"For twenty-three years I was a constant sufferer from chronic catarrh. I had a severe misery and burning in the top of my head. There was almost a continual dropping of mucus into my throat, which caused frequent expectoration. My entire system gradually became involved, and my condition grew worse. I had an incessant cough and frequent attacks of bilious colic, from which I could not recover. My bowels also became affected, causing alarming attacks of hemorrhoids.

"I tried many remedies, which gave only temporary relief, or no relief at all. I at last tried Peruna, and in three days I was relieved of the bowel derangement. After using five bottles I was entirely cured.

"I most cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna to any one similarly afflicted.

loved me and asked me to be your wife. It is now 8 o'clock in the morning; but, though I did not get home till 2, I have been awakened by the sweet memory of hearing you make your delicious avowal. I cannot refrain from writing you to ask how you feel after our merry evening. I send you a line by tonight's express, and that what you said to me was not a dream, but a reality. With a million kisses, your loving KATE.

"Well, I'll be jinged!" exclaimed Billy. "What's the use of making resolutions for the new year when there is a mountain of transgressions piled up for the old one? Luckily she's signed her name, for I hadn't the slightest remembrance of who she was. Her purpose is evident. She intends to clinch it while it is hot. What in the world shall I do? I have it. My cousin Kate Singleton will help me out of the scrape. She was with us last night, and I remember saying some sweet things to her."

When the butler returned with the soda Billy called for writing materials and wrote:

Dearest, Sweetest Cousin—Believe me, what I said to you last night came from the heart. You made me very happy when you told me you returned my love. Isn't it lovely that we should be both so blessed on this bright New Year's morning? Yours till death, BILLY.

He read the note over and asked the butler what kind of morning it was and, being told that snow was falling, was minded to write another, but concluded that, with such an enormous falsification in pretending that he supposed it was his cousin that he had been proposing to, a little thing like a mistake in the weather wouldn't make much difference. Besides, his head ached badly, and he felt unequal to any more love-making. He addressed the note to Kate Singleton instead of Kate Edmonds and dispatched it.

So much for Billy Henderson's starting in for the new year. The resolutions for it were all right, but he was obliged to carry a load of debt into the new account. He had no fear of any trouble with his cousin, only he must explain to her how he came to write her such a note. But there was no hurry as to this, for it had been sent to Miss Edmonds, and it was not to be expected that she would forward it at once. What she would do in the matter Billy could only conjecture. He must await the result.

Billy had been up every night for a week till the small hours in the morning and, having been refreshed by the soda water, sank into a slumber rendered especially peaceful by the good resolutions he had made for the next year. He slept eighteen hours without knowing that he had slept even once. He touched the button for the butler and when he came asked:

"What time is it, James?"

"Seven o'clock, sir."

"Seven o'clock in the evening?"

"No, sir—7 in the morning."

"Nonsense! I heard it strike 12 awhile ago."

"That was 12 o'clock yesterday, sir."

"Pshaw! Have I slept so long as that?"

"Yes, sir. There are two letters for you, sir. They came last evening."

"Two letters?" exclaimed Billy, starting and recalling the complications of the day before. "Are you sure there are two?"

"Yes, sir."

"Bring them up at once."

He arose and put on evening dress, then, seating himself in an easy chair before an open fire, thought of the dangers of bachelorhood.

When the notes came he first opened one addressed in the handwriting of Miss Edmonds. There was no gush in it. Indeed, it was very brief, stating that she had received a note addressed to Miss Kate Singleton. Supposing that he had inadvertently written the wrong name on the envelope, she had been tempted to open it, but had refrained from doing what might turn out to be a dishonorable act. She had therefore sent the note to its address and awaited a reply to her own missive.

Billy opened the other note, which he knew to be from his cousin, with feverish haste. It ran thus:

My Dear Billy—I did not take what you said to me last night, though it was very tender and sweet, for a proposal, but I am very happy on learning from you that you meant it as such and am glad to be able to make you happy this New Year's day by confessing that I have loved you ever since we were children together. But I have never thought you cared for me. Oh, Billy, what a lovely new year present you have given me! Your loving KATE.

"Well, I'll be jinged!"

Billy sat up in bed with a note in each hand, looking back and forth from one to the other.

"This is starting in for the new year with a vengeance—aware of proposing, and here I am with two propositions on hand, neither of them intended. 'Loved you ever since we were children together.' I didn't know that. I never even suspected it."

Billy sat musing over the revelation for some time. Then suddenly he pushed the button.

"Bring me a cocktail!" he cried to James when he entered, then, remembering his resolution, added, "Make it a cup of coffee."

When Billy arose after his long rest it was nearly noon. He telephoned to his office that he was "under the weather" and would not be ready for business till the next day, then went to his club. He was doing a lot of thinking. He was not seriously concerned about his complication with Miss Edmonds, for in the first place he was inclined to think that she had been disposed to take him in when he had given her an ell, and in the second place he was not sure that he desired to get out of his unintended proposition to his cousin, Kate Singleton, who was a fine girl, a mighty fine girl. He wondered why he had not thought of making love to her—serious love—not that habitual love-making that was constantly bubbling up in his bosom, but the kind of love a fellow makes to the girl he wishes to marry.

After all, what better beginning could he make for the new year than settling himself down to one real good, sensible girl who would marry him because she had loved him ever since they were children together and not for the $10,000 a year, with expectations, he was known to possess? With his Cousin-Kate for a wife he wouldn't need to make any resolutions. Wouldn't that be fine, especially since he had no confidence in his ability to keep them?

Then a happy thought came to him. If he married Kate, no resolutions being necessary, the resolutions he had already made need not be kept.

"Waiter," he cried impatiently, "bring me a cocktail and a box of cigarettes!"

Braced by the refreshment, he wrote a note to Miss Edmonds regretting exceedingly that he had been misunderstood by her. Nothing would give him greater pleasure than to stand by anything he might have said to her, but he was prevented from doing so by his engagement with his cousin, Kate Singleton.

"I flatter myself," he said after reading the note over and jotting several 's and crossing some 't's, "that's a hang-up, mainly statement that no reasonable girl could find any fault with."

As soon as Billy had sent the note he felt easier. The same evening he went to see his cousin.

"Billy," she said, "what made you choose such a time and place for so serious a matter? Had I known what a bolsterous party there would be I wouldn't have gone, and I'll never go there again."

"Why, the truth is," replied Billy, looking at her with his honest eyes, "I'd been putting it off so long, thinking that you didn't care anything for me as a—er, as a lover, that I just couldn't stand it to wait any longer."

"Poor boy!" she said softly, dropping her head on his breast, while he encircled her waist and kissed her.

LILIES OF THE BIBLE.

They Are Wind Flowers, as No True Lilies Grow in the Holy Land.

It is a common belief, even among well informed people, that the word "lily" as used in the sacred text means a real lily in the modern sense of the word. This, however, is not the case. No real lily grows or ever grew within the confines of the Holy Land. The white lily Lilium caudatum, which is often mistaken for the plant of Scripture, is not a native of Palestine, nor can it be made to grow there, even in cultivation, without great care.

It is commonly conceded that the plant Christ saw about him during the Sermon on the Mount was the same plant which in early spring is still found in great abundance in the valleys of that country—namely, the oriental wind flower (Aeolone coronaria). The tint of its blossoms is from blood red to crimson, and it is called wind flower, not, as commonly supposed, because the slender stemmed blossoms away in the breeze, but because the hairy seeds of some species are carried and propagated by the wind.

The fact that Christ used the word "lily" when a wind flower or aeolone was meant need not surprise us, for the word was used as the people of his day used it. And all the ancient peoples, even the Greeks, employed the word lilium or lilion or lilion when referring to any plant with a cuplike flower. Even today, when scientists speak of common plants, they mention "water lilies," "lilies of the valley," etc., although they know full well that these plants are not real lilies nor even closely related to them.—Baltimore American.

Brookfield Wrote With Either Hand.

Among the many accomplishments possessed by Charles Brookfield was the exceedingly useful art of being able to write with either hand. This he owed to the early training of his mother, who when the future dramatic censor was a baby fell a victim to writers' cramp. She thereupon learned to write with the left hand and soon became proficient. In 1864 Mrs. Brookfield published her first novel, which she claimed to have written throughout with her left hand. As soon as her children could use a pen they were taught to hold it in either hand indifferently, and this early training served Charles Brookfield in good stead when he became a prolific author.—London Graphic.

The Other Way.

Mrs. Sourpate - When I gave you that solemn warning against marrying, I said that some day you would regret it. That time will come, mark my words. Mrs. Newed—That time has come. Mrs. Sourpate gleefully—I thought so. "Then you regret your marriage?" Mrs. Newed—Oh, no. I regret the warning you gave me. It kept me from marrying for nearly a year.—Puck.

Strictly Business.

"He's running his business on strictly common sense lines."

"In what way?"

"Well, for instance, he says he won't hire a man who comes from New York unless he also knows something."—Detroit Free Press.

Inconsistent.

Poet—You said the other day in your paper that poverty is not a crime. Editor—Well? Poet—And yet you decline my verses simply because you say they are poor.—Puck.

"No, but then, sir, I've only been caddy for four years."—Detroit Free Press.

GOT HER THREE WISHES.

But They Sank Her Beneath the Waves of the Social Sea.

The late King Edward of England, while a very gracious and genial man, could be very severe with those who overstepped the rules of etiquette, and Frederick Townsend Martin in "Things I Remember" recalls what happened to an American girl who offended him when he was Prince of Wales.

At a society bazaar the winner of a lucky lottery ticket had the privilege of asking three wishes from the Prince of Wales, and fate favored a young lady from the United States.

"What is your first wish?" asked H. H. H.

"Oh, sir, it is to have your photograph."

The prince beamed. "Granted," he said. "And the next?"

"I would like you to bring me the photograph in person."

H. H. H. hesitated, frowned and, recovering from his surprise, answered: "That shall be done. Now, what is the last?"

Never was the truth of the saying so apparent that "fools rush in where angels fear to tread." The young lady disregarded the warning looks from those around her. "The third wish, sir, is that you will present me to the Princess of Wales."

The prince looked at her coldly. "Granted," he said and walked away without a word. The silly girl realized that she had shamed against society, which never forgives fools. She made a hasty exit, and the waves of the social sea closed over her forever.

Great Lovers of Water.

The Spaniards are more devoted to the water than any other nation in the world. They are nearly always bathing, generally with their clothes on, and they never go anywhere by land if they can possibly go by water. The streets of Bangkok are like those of Venice, and the inhabitants say that their idea of paradise would be a town with canals where there were currents in both directions, so that they might be spared the effort of rowing.

It Wasn't Love.

"Your former husband must still love you."

"Why so?"

"He tells me that he owes a great deal to you."

"It's referring to the back all-mony."—Pittsburgh Post.

Indeed He Couldn't.

"What can you do?" asked the hatcher of the applicant for a job.

"Most anything around a shop."

"Well, I'll start you at $6 a week. Can you dress a chicken?"

"Not on $6 a week."—Kansas City Star.

Advice to the Aged.

Age brings infirmities, such as sluggish bowels, weak kidneys and bladder and TORPID LIVER.

Let's Have Dinner-- For Once I'm Hungry

Oh, Ho! ROOT JUICE Makes You Eat Like a Wolf and Digest Like an Ostrich.

Tut, tut, don't say you are not hungry, can't eat, can't digest, or suffer after. That's a complaint of yesterday. Get a few doses of ROOT JUICE into that hungry stomach of yours and see what happens. You'll soon know what good healthy hunger is, you'll forget about indigestion and dyspepsia in a hurry and you'll sit down and enjoy the biggest meal you've had in many a day. What's more, you'll experience the greatest surprise of your life—you'll digest that dinner and you'll have no pains and stuffy feeling after it. You'll not belch and bloat like

"Sakes Alive, John, You Hungry? That ROOT JUICE is a Marvel!"

You did before and you'll be ready for another big, husky feed at supper time and more big meals tomorrow.

Never you mind what failed to help you or what you've tried before or how much money you have wasted on uncertain things, you just try ROOT JUICE for ten days and prove these words. It's simply not to give results or back goes your money. You're taking no chances this time. ROOT JUICE is guaranteed to give satisfaction to everybody who uses it. The druggist will tell you that precious few ask for money back—everybody says you couldn't buy the benefit they've had for ten times the price and they want more of it.

ROOT JUICE can't hurt anybody, nothing harmful in it, no bad after effects, no reaction. It is made of roots and herbs and the way it works is simply wonderful. It does more than merely put the stomach in fine condition. It benefits the whole body, aids up the lazy liver and bowels, strengthens the kidneys and bladder and cleans out the blood. It puts new vim and force into the nerves and makes you feel like you have been made all over again with every part and organ working like a clock.

Don't you let anybody switch you off onto something else this time. You get guaranteed, money-back, ROOT JUICE and try it for just ten days. Let it right off, today and take your first dose before your next meal. It's good, you'll like the taste, but you'll feel like screaming with joy and happiness when you see what glorious relief it brings. ROOT JUICE is sold at all first class drug stores at a dollar a bottle and it's worth a hundred. You'll say so too.

AGED MAN KILLED WIFE WHO BEGGED FOR DEATH

Said He "Guessed It Wouldn't Be a Sin"—Woman Was An Invalid.

Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—Tottering under the weight of his 80 years, William Eberwein stood in Criminal Court here and told a simple, dramatic story of how his wife, fifteen years younger, had pleaded with him to kill her, and how he committed the deed. After the old man had completed the story, Judge Walling, of Erie, Pa., temporarily presiding in the court, surveyed the bent form of the prisoner, fixed the crime at murder in the second degree, and imposed the minimum penalty, which in this case was practically a life sentence. It was solitary confinement in the penitentiary for not less than seven years nor more than fourteen.

Holding onto the prisoners' dock with trembling hands, Eberwein, who is a veteran of the Civil War, told the court that his wife was an invalid, and that one day last October he came into their home and found her lying at the bottom of a stairway, down which she had fallen. He offered to have her sent to a hospital, but she wouldn't go.

"You do it, William," Eberwein alleged she said.

"Do what?" I said," the prisoner continued.

"End it all for me. It's no sin when I'm suffering so."

"I had a board in my hand that I had brought in out of the yard. I looked at her and guessed it wouldn't be a sin."

"Go on, William," says she; "go on."

"I tapped her on the head with the board and I tapped her again. She didn't moan much, and once when I stopped she kind of whispered: 'Go on, it won't be long.'"

"So I kept on tapping and she got quiet."

Eberwein stopped speaking, but no one urged him on. Then he began again and told of his arrest.

"If I get out of this I want to go to the Soldiers' Home," he said.

HARNETT'S CREEK.

Jan. 26.—Rev. Ward Taylor, of Grayson county, filled his regular appointment at Harnett's Creek Baptist church Saturday and Sunday.

The farmers of this community have been very busy the past week burning plant beds.

Miss Fannie Harris and brother Harlan, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Ada Hamilton and family, near Masonville, for the past two weeks, returned home Friday.

Mr. Jim Brooks, of Owensboro, was the guest of his brother, Mr. Lish Brooks, and family, from Friday until Monday.

Several from this place attended the birthday dinner of Mr. Peter Parks, near Beda, Sunday, it being his 84th birthday.

WEST PROVIDENCE.

Jan. 25.—Perhaps this being an old church site, many from various places enjoy a letter from their old home church. Many who amply assisted in erecting the church are now residing in different States and localities and many are sleeping in the little cemetery near by.

Would like to say to the contributor from Brooksville, Fla., we enjoy a letter from your Southern home. Come, tell us something of the scenes on the Gulf of Mexico. Would like to say that our winter has indeed been mild. A few garden products have been reported as planted.

Miss Ruth Hanley closed her school here the 17th inst. on account of several cases of chickenpox reported. The attendance was small during the closing weeks.

Mr. Jonas Render recently lost his horse. This is reported as the second one he has had the misfortune to lose.

Colds to be Taken Seriously.

Intelligent people realize that common colds should be treated promptly. If there is sneezing, with chilliness and hoarseness, tickling throat and coughing, the latter especially annoying at bed time, use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It is effective, pleasant to take, checks a cold, stops the cough which causes loss of sleep, and lowers the vital resistance to disease. MATCHES WILL BE SAFE, BEGINNING NEXT YEAR

The "Safety" and "Bird-Eye" Varieties To Be The Only Kinds Used.

Both the manufacture and sale of matches containing white phosphorus will be brought to an end in this country on July 1, 1915, when the law recently passed by Congress, imposing a prohibitive tax on matches in which this substance is used, will go into full effect. This law was passed after years of agitation and after a long educational campaign that made the public aware of the terrible effects produced on the operatives in match factories through working with white phosphorus, and brought out the fact that there were other forms of phosphorus not of a poisonous nature. Phosphorus is obtained from bones, which consist mainly of phosphorus and lime chemically combined with each other and with organic matter. The two forms most commonly seen are white phosphorus and red phosphorus. The white phosphorus is poisonous, while the red phosphorus is practically harmless.

Under the new law only two kinds of matches will be in use—the so-called "safety" match, which ignites when scratched on a specially prepared surface on the side of the box, and the "bird's-eye" match, which can be ignited on any dry surface after the manner of the white phosphorus match. The main ingredient of the "safety" match is chlorate of potash, while the surface on which it is lighted is painted with red phosphorus. The substance used for the tip of the common "bird-eye" match is sesquisulphide of phosphorus, a compound of a comparatively harmless nature. In making these matches the first dip coats the end of the match with an inert substance which keeps the match burning after it is lighted, while the second dip places on the end of this substance the sesquisulphide tip. A temperature of over 300 degrees F. is required for igniting these matches. They cannot be lighted through being stepped on; they do not spark or fly, and are not explosive. They are, therefore, much safer than the so-called "safety" match. (Popular Mechanics.)

Stomach Trouble Cured.

If you have any trouble with your stomach you should take Chamberlain's Tablets. Mr. J. P. Klotz, of Edina, Mo., says: "I have used a great many different medicines for stomach trouble, but had Chamberlain's Tablets more beneficial than any other remedy I ever used." "Laugh and the World Laughs With You."

The poet was right—there is nothing so catching as joyous laughter. Next to a kiss a laugh is the most popular thing in the world. The supply of kisses is limited, being largely controlled by a fair but capricious trust. The supply of laughs, however, is practically unlimited so long as you don't get too grouchy to look for them. One reason for the remarkable success of the Chicago Record-Herald is its daily recognition of the value of kindly, wholesome fun. The "Whim-whams and Sentiment" column of S. E. Kiser, the humorist and poet, is one of the brightest things in American journalism. The new department called "Jones's Daily Magazine" offers a diverting assortment of jokes, stories and amusing pictures every day in the week. The "Vest Pocket Essays" of George Fitch, printed daily in the Record-Herald, are gems of refined wit and humor. Each one is as good as a circus. And there is always a smile or a laugh in French's cartoons, bringing a cheery greeting as you pick up the paper each morning.

In the Sunday Record-Herald the colored comic section is full of laughter for young and old, and these pictures are free from the vulgarity and mischievous suggestions that have barred so many comic sections from refined homes. Then there is always a lot of high-class humor in the Sunday Magazine of the Record-Herald, led by Sewell Ford's famous tales concerning Shorty McCabe and his red-headed rival, Torchy. The Record-Herald has the right idea. Clean humor doubles the welcome of a good newspaper.

ACCUSED OF STRIKING BROTHER WITH SHOVEL

Central City, Jan. 26.—Charged with attacking his brother, Ellisha, aged 40, with a shovel and inflicting probably fatal injuries, Ivy Wilkins, aged 38, of Midland, was arrested to-day and taken to the Greenville Jail. The elder Wilkins is still unconscious.

It is charged that the brothers quarreled Sunday afternoon while the younger brother was cleaning out a grate in their mother's room.

The elder brother is said to have pulled Ivy away from the grate and a few minutes later, when Ellisha started to leave the room, it is said Ivy struck him on the head with the shovel, rendering him unconscious.

It is claimed that Ellisha fell over the foot of his mother's bed, where she is lying unable to get up, and lay there all night, until 8 o'clock this morning. The younger brother went to the home of a sister, Mrs. Lonnie Harper, a mile away, and stayed all night. He was on his way home when arrested and was taken to Greenville and lodged in jail.

James Stobaugh learned of the plight of Ellisha when he went to the Wilkins house this morning. He called a physician.

William C. Gaynor Dead.

Central City, Ky., Jan. 25.—William C. Gaynor, 50, died this morning in Chicago of appendicitis and complications from which he had been suffering for some weeks. He was president of the Western Kentucky College at South Carrollton. Twenty years ago he accepted a partnership in the Western Press Association. At the beginning of his illness his brother-in-law, Dr. Joseph M. Ferguson, of this city, was called to his bedside, and when the latter returned a week ago, Mr. Gaynor was considered out of danger. A relapse caused his death.

He is survived by a son, Kenneth, and a daughter, Winifred. His wife was formerly Miss Beale Ferguson, of South Carrollton. The body will arrive in South Carrollton on Tuesday morning and the funeral will be held that afternoon.

SPECIAL NOTICE

In regard to OBITUARIES, RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT, &c.

The Hartford Herald has adopted a new rule in regard to Obituaries, Resolutions of Respect, Cards of Thanks, &c., whether written personally or for lodges, churches or individuals, and that is, we shall charge at the rate of five cents per line for all such articles, except obituary poetry, which will be one-cent per word straight.

The amount, in cash or stamps, must accompany each article, or it will not be printed. Six words average a line in ordinary reading and every separate character or initial letter counts as a word. The heading and the signature both count one line each, even if they are only a word or two. All obituary poetry, straight through, one cent per word. This ruling applies to everybody alike, without any distinction.

Fifty-nine years of happy married life without a change in place of residence!

This is the pleasing past whose memories Mr. and Mrs. William H. Acton, well-known residents of Ohio county, reviewed on their wedding anniversary last Saturday.

Appreciative of Mr. and Mrs. Acton's happiness, as evinced by many felicitations, are their six children, seven grandchildren and numerous acquaintances.

Mr. Acton is a successful farmer, having been born in Ohio county about eighty years ago. His parents came to this State from Maryland. Mr. and Mrs. Acton live about half way between Rosine and Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Acton is about three years younger than Mr. Acton. She was born in Grayson county, and was Miss Martha J. Crawford. Her father and mother were from Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Acton have had eight children, two having died. The six are: H. C. Acton, S. S. Acton, R. B. Acton, Dundee, Ky.; Ira W. Acton, Ohio county; Mrs. B. F. Atkinson, wife of the Rev. B. F. Atkinson, of Louisville; Mrs. C. R. Crowe, wife of the Rev. C. R. Crowe, also of Louisville.

The Senate passed the Alaska Railroad Bill authorizing the Government to build 1,000 miles of railroad lines in the Territory at a cost of $40,000,000.
